

HINDENBURG LINE NOT READY, PARIS BELIEVES

FAMED POSITION NOT SOLID RAMPART OF THE PAST.

Formidable Still, but Everything Depends on Condition of Troops Back of Line.

Paris, Aug. 31.—While the center of the eighty-mile battle line was relatively quiet, enemy resistance increased yesterday on both wings. He was unable, however, to arrest the progress of the allies. At the northern end Gen. Horns and Gen. Byng gained important ground for future operations by taking Bullecourt, the most solid position in that sector. (Last night's British official statement admitted that the British troops had been forced to fall back to the western outskirts of Bullecourt.)

"Hinge" Position Strong. Gen. Mangin attacked the southern end of the line. The region in which he is fighting forms an elbow where the line running from Dunkirk to Noyon meets a line running at right angles across France to Nancy. This "hinge" position is exceptionally strong, since it is based north of Soissons on a high plateau overlooking the valley of the Aisne to the south and the Ailette to the north. There are wooded ranges of hills in this St. Gobain country which dominate Laon and a serious defeat here would oblige the enemy to make a precipitate retreat and force him to abandon not only the line of the Vesle, but the three lines formed by the Aisne, the Chemin-des-Dames and the Ailette.

Best Hun Gun Muster. Gen. Ludendorff in consequence has thrown in the best of his armor can muster. These are picked regiments, Prussian guards and Alpine Bavarian and Saxon units.

Gen. Mangin has in his command some of the finest American divisions together with elite French and colonial troops. The fighting during the last forty-eight hours has equalled in ferocity anything as yet seen during the war.

Nevertheless the enemy had to give way and the Franco-American forces have won half the plateau between Soissons and the Coucy-le-Chateau. The Soissons-Coucy and the Soissons-Anis-le-Chateau roads are threatened and the Germans are faced by the danger of the French getting behind the Chemin-des-Dames in their rear.

Reasons for Confidence. Conservative military opinion here views the situation with confidence. It is felt the Germans delayed their retreat too long and that they are fighting so hard and sacrificing men to gain time because the Hindenburg line is not yet ready. In any case that famous position is not held in the center, but only on the wings. It was a solid rampart as it was when first made a year ago, when the works were new and well kept up and were solidly garrisoned by troops with unpimpaired morale. They still are a formidable object, but everything depends upon the condition they are in and also the state of the troops that will fall back into them.

COLLEGIATE SYSTEM IN PROCESS FEDERALIZATION

Five Hundred Presidents and Deans Declare in Favor of Move.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Five hundred presidents and deans of colleges and universities in the central states, in conference at the students' army training corps camp at Fort Sheridan, surprised the war department by declaring themselves unanimously in favor of the federalization of the institutions to aid the government in supplying manpower and officers' material for a successful prosecution of the war.

As a result, the federalization of the entire nation on a war basis is under way today.

Opposition of the college heads was expected because the militarization program means a complete revamping of curricula and the combining of vocational with collegiate education, all under war department supervision.

When the government's needs were explained by Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry, commanding the central department, however, they not only consented to comply with the president's request for co-operation, but cheered the speaker.

The federalization of the colleges means practical abolition of customary educational requirements for entrance and no limit to develop, regardless of previous training and expense.

MOONSHINING. Washington, Aug. 31.—With nationwide prohibition impending, the gentle art of distilling moonshine whiskey is spreading to northern states never before suspected of "kitchen rum making."

In announcing that nearly 600 illicit stills had been destroyed and property worth $100,000 seized this summer, D. E. Murphy, chief of the government's moonshine sleuths, intimated that surprising revelations of the enormous output of corn whiskey would be made.

Internal revenue agents are not confining their investigations to dark caves in the wilderness, mountain fastnesses and impenetrable forests. In Washington today two deputies discovered a flourishing beer brewery in a private house, where "root beer" was being brewed from a concoction of 2 to 10 alcohol content in volume, was found. This condition is said to be the same in New York, Boston, Worcester, Mass., and other eastern cities.

Internal revenue officers today turned their attention to the greatly increased use of a so-called "lager beer syrup" being sold in large quantities in New York City. This extract contains no alcohol, but when "brewed" with common bread yeast added, it acquires "body" and alcoholic content of more than 5 per cent, it is said.

MISSING COLLIER'S NAME STRICKEN FROM REGISTER

Washington, Aug. 31.—The name of the missing collier Cyclops has been formally stricken from the navy register. Secretary Daniels said today, and orders have been issued for the payment by the treasury of all claims growing out of the loss of her crew.

Secretary Daniels and other naval officials are certain that the fate of the 10,000-ton collier always will be a mystery.

Bound from South America with a cargo of manganese ore to be used in the manufacture of war munitions, the collier touched at the Barbados on March 4. Leaving that port, she was never again seen and a most thorough search developed, the big vessel was not sighted by any of the commercial or fishing craft which throng the south Atlantic.

Various theories have been raised to explain the disappearance of the Cyclops, but it has gradually come to be accepted that the vessel met with a violent hurricane and turned turtle, carrying with her 57 passengers, 15 officers and 221 members of her crew.

BEQUEATHS $100,000, ENTIRE ESTATE, TO RED CROSS

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 31.—Under the terms of the will of the late Chas. Kahn, made public today, his entire estate, the value of which is estimated at $100,000, is bequeathed to the American Red Cross society "after my just debts including funeral expenses, are paid."

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

By Condo

WELL, I WONDER WHAT COULD HAVE BECOME OF MY GARBAGE CAN!!

I HAD IT REMOVED, MRS. WASTELY, AND I ORDERED A MUCH SMALLER ONE FOR YOU! INSTEAD OF HELPING TO CAN THE KAISER YOU HAVE BEEN FEEDING HIM!!!

SAMUEL GOMPERS VISITS HUMBLE SCENE OF BOYHOOD HOME IN ENGLAND

American Labor Leader Thronged With Handshakers in Old Street in London's East Side.

London, Thursday, Aug. 29.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today visited his boyhood home where he was born 68 years ago. It was an event of great importance in the little section of East London known as Spittlegate. Mr. Gompers had only visited England once before since he had left there as a boy to seek his fortune in America. His previous visit was nine years ago.

Mr. Gompers was accompanied today on the journey to East street by several members of the American labor mission. Mr. Gompers, standing in the middle of the street, recalled many scenes of his boyhood.

"The old street has not changed much," he said as he stood in front of the house which had been his home for many years. "That old public house on the corner looks exactly as it did when I used to listen to the crowd of old cigar makers discussing politics in the evening when I was a mere slip of a boy."

While Mr. Gompers was talking, an old woman of over eighty years, wearing a long gray shawl, hobbled up, looked at the stranger a moment and then broke in:

"I know you, Sam Gompers," she said. "Many's the time I gave you a piece of my mind when you used to live there" pointing to the house where Mr. Gompers was born. The old woman had not seen him since he left London as a youthful apprentice cigar maker. Mr. Gompers spent some minutes talking over old times with her, asking about various boyhood playmates, most of whom have been dead long since.

Presently the old woman left to tell the neighbors and soon the little group of labor men were surrounded by a great throng of Spittlegate people, all of whom were anxious to see the man who had risen to great power from the humble surroundings of their street.

Mr. Gompers spent a very happy half-hour in the midst of the crowd of men, women and children, many of them children, grand-children and even great grand-children of persons whom he remembers as neighbors of his father and mother. He particularly enjoyed the children and got on well with them.

Spittlegate is deep in the interior of London's east end which is not so different from New York's east side except that it is greater in extent and much older. Never before had American army automobiles been seen in remote East street. The children crowded about the automobiles, watching every gesture and motion of the American chauffeurs in their strange field service caps. With open mouths the children accepted gifts of pennies which the chauffeurs were allowed to hand out. The children were to be seen but declined the efforts made by the Americans to become better acquainted.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS FAVORED BY CHAIRMEN BOTH NATIONAL PARTIES

New York, Aug. 30.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, in a letter made public today, announced his "heartily sympathy with the general purpose" of the league to enforce peace, and accepted election as an honorary vice-president of that organization.

Chairman Hays' action evidences the non-partisan character of the league of nations movement; for Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, is already an officer of the league, having accepted a place on its executive committee several months ago.

The endorsements of the democratic and republican national chairmen, together with the fact that both parties in their national platforms two years ago declared in favor of a league of nations, are being emphasized by the league in its present campaign to commit every political convention and every candidate for congress nominated this summer and fall to the plan of establishing a permanent international partnership to keep the world safe from the danger of German militarism.

The league announced that among the political leaders who have recently written letters favoring this campaign are: William B. Haldeman, democratic national committeeman from Kentucky; Coleman duPont, republican national committeeman from Delaware; Reginald Burton L. French, of Idaho; W. H. Gilleswater, chairman republican state committee of New Mexico; Harry J. Humphreys, chairman republican state central committee of Nevada; A. H. Harriman, chairman democratic state committee of New Hampshire; Col. F. MacGregor, republican national committeeman from Texas; United States Senator William H. King, of Utah; Ben M. Naale, chairman democratic state committee of Missouri; Henry S. Jackson, republican national committeeman from Georgia; and Gov. Holcomb, of Connecticut.

Pledges of endorsement have come also from a number of state and county chairmen and committeemen of both parties.

In accepting the honorary vice-presidency of the league, Chairman Hays, of the republican national committee, wrote as follows:

"I very heartily sympathize with the general purpose of your league. I am with you in principle. I will gladly accept, subject to your understanding that my position is as hereafter set forth:

"Having in view the present attitude not only of Germany, Austria and Turkey, but Russia and the fact that the three former have occupied this position for four years, and Russia for one, and in view of the fact that these are four of the nine great powers whose potential or actual military strength must be the guarantee of such a league, it is not possible for me to accept the view that America, from the viewpoint of self-defense and of the performance of international duty, should accept the creation of any such league as a substit-

great throng of Spittlegate people, all of whom were anxious to see the man who had risen to great power from the humble surroundings of their street.

Mr. Gompers spent a very happy half-hour in the midst of the crowd of men, women and children, many of them children, grand-children and even great grand-children of persons whom he remembers as neighbors of his father and mother. He particularly enjoyed the children and got on well with them.

Spittlegate is deep in the interior of London's east end which is not so different from New York's east side except that it is greater in extent and much older. Never before had American army automobiles been seen in remote East street. The children crowded about the automobiles, watching every gesture and motion of the American chauffeurs in their strange field service caps. With open mouths the children accepted gifts of pennies which the chauffeurs were allowed to hand out. The children were to be seen but declined the efforts made by the Americans to become better acquainted.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

Great Deal of Handshaking. There was a great deal of handshaking as Mr. Gompers bade his old and new friends farewell after promising to make the street another visit before returning to America.

In the afternoon Mr. Gompers called at American army headquarters to see Maj. Gen. Biddle and Surgeon-General Winter. Afterward he paid a surprise visit on Maj. Endicott, the American Red Cross commissioner at Red Cross headquarters, and arranged to visit the American Red Cross hospitals.

Mr. Gompers will go to the hospitals tomorrow to distribute cigars to the several hundred Americans sick or wounded, who recently have arrived in London from the western front.

COBB COPS BATTING LEAD AND JOINS ARMY

CURTAIN GOES DOWN WITH GEORGIAN BOWING.

Rush Crowding Zack Wheat for Honors in National—Average for Week.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Capt. Tyrus Raymond Cobb, who this week stepped from the spotlight of baseball into the chemical division of the army, took with him the 1918 batting honors of the American league. As the Detroit star stood bowing before the falling curtain of the game, friends realized that he had taken those first honors every year since 1912 with the exception of one season, when in 1916 Tris Speaker noted him out. Cobb's average, according to figures released today, is .377. Burns of Philadelphia, in second, with .346, and George Sisler, the St. Louis first baseman, third with .327.

Cobb, however, did not excel in base-stealing, for Elmer, with a total of 49, leads by 4 over the Georgian. Chapman, of Cleveland, is sandwiched between them with 36. Chapman is leading in sacrifice hitting with 34, while Shean, of Boston, is close up with 33, and McInnis, Shean's teammate, next with 30.

Babe Ruth, the Boston star, and Walker of Philadelphia, remain tied for honors in home-run hitting with 11 each. Boston, 1918 champion, leads the league in club fielding with a total of 971, but is sixth in batting with 246. Cleveland, the runner-up in the race, tops the league in batting with 260. Leading batters:

Cobb, Detroit377
Burns, Philadelphia346
Sisler, St. Louis327
Speaker, Cleveland321
Pipp, New York304
Wood, Cleveland303
Baker, New York301
Walker, Philadelphia298
Ruth, Boston297
Demmitt, St. Louis286

Batting honors in the National league race probably will not be decided until the final games of the season Monday. Eddie Roush, the Cincinnati star, is pressing Zack Wheat, the Brooklyn veteran, for the lead, according to today's figures, which include games of Wednesday. Wheat's mark is .341. Roush is 3 points behind him. There are only two members of the Chicago club, champions of the league, in the select group of .300 hitters. They are Hollocher, the youthful shortstop, and Merkle, who considers his playing record of this season will forever silence those who dubbed him a "homehead."

Hollocher, with an average of .320, dropped into fourth place, relinquishing third to Heinie Groh, of Cincinnati. Max Carey, of Pittsburgh, is certain to finish the race with base-running honors. He has stolen 55 bases, while Groh, of Burns, of New York, next in the list, has 23.

Ruth is the leading sacrifice hitter, his total of 33 giving him a lead of 5 over Mollwitz, of Pittsburgh. Home-run hitting Cravath, of Philadelphia, tops the list with 11. Roush is in first place in team hitting with an average of .278, while Chicago is second in team fielding. New York leading with .971. Leading batters:

Wheat, Brooklyn341
Roush, Cincinnati320
Groh, Cincinnati323
Hollocher, Chicago320
J. C. Smith, Boston313
Daubert, Brooklyn312
Merkle, Chicago304
Burns, New York306
Young, New York305
Hornaby, St. Louis292

SECRETARY HAYWOOD OF I. W. W. GETS 20 YEARS

Chicago, Aug. 31.—William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the I. W. W., and four other members of the which were sentenced yesterday by Judge Landis to twenty years' imprisonment and to pay $20,000 fine each.

Those sentenced with Haywood to twenty years in the penitentiary and to pay a $20,000 fine are:

Carl Ahteen, Minneapolis; George Andrich, Chicago; Forest Edwards, Minneapolis; Ralph Chaplin, Chicago; Leo Lavicki, Duluth; Aurelio V. Azura, Los Angeles; G. L. Lambert, Minneapolis; Vladimir Loser, Chicago; Walter T. Neff, Philadelphia; Charles Rothfischer, Chicago; James Rawan, Spokane; Sam Bennett, Akron, O.; Manuel Ray, Buffalo, N. Y.; Richard Brazier, Spokane.

The following were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 on each of the four counts:

William Moran, Spokane; H. F. Kane, Globe, Ariz.; John Avila, Paterson, N. J.; Dave King, Youngstown, O.; William Weyh, Oakland, Cal.; Pierce C. Swetter, Great Falls, Mont.; Joseph Oates, Globe, Ariz.

EDITOR GERMAN LANGUAGE PAPER HELD BY POLICE

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 31.—Hans Weiss, former editor of a local German newspaper, is in custody of the police today, charged with changing his address without notifying his draft board.

The authorities found what they declare is a German code in the possession of Weiss and say a more serious charge will be filed against the prisoner late today.

REMY VAUDEVILLE
DIRECTION SIGNAL AMUSEMENT CO.

FRANCES NORDSTROM- WILLIAM PINKHAM & CO.
In a quaint comedy entitled
"ALL WRONG"
By Frances Nordstrom

HERBERT SPENCER
Vaudeville's Singing Composer
Hearst-Pathe News and three other big Keith Acts.

"WHERE QUALITY MEETS"
DIRECTION SIGNAL AMUSEMENT CO.

NORMA TALMADGE, in
"THE SAFETY CURTAIN"
Containing scenes tremendously thrilling: a fire panic in a theater; a plague in India, and scenes of the fashionable Anglo-Indian life among the Simla hills.
A Select Picture.

Also Mutt & Jeff Cartoon
"LANDING A SPY"

FINE ARTS Superior Picture Plays
BESSIE BARRISCALE, in
"MAID O' THE STORM"
The story of a little waif who achieves success and happiness through perseverance, faith and love.
A Paralta Play.

JUNE ELVIDGE, in
"THE POWER AND THE GLORY"
A World Picture.
Also Chapter Nineteen of
"THE HOUSE OF HATE."

TODAY'S BASEBALL

NATIONAL.
St. Louis at Pittsburgh.
Cincinnati at Chicago.
Brooklyn at New York.
Boston at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN.
Philadelphia at Boston.
New York at Washington.
Cleveland at Chicago.
Detroit at St. Louis.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Club Won. Lost. Pct.
Chicago 82 43 .656
New York 69 51 .575
Pittsburgh 64 58 .523
Cincinnati 63 60 .512
Brooklyn 55 67 .451
Philadelphia 52 66 .445
Boston 49 69 .415
St. Louis 51 74 .408

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Club Won. Lost. Pct.
Boston 71 50 .587
Cleveland 71 54 .568
Washington 69 55 .557
New York 59 62 .488
Chicago 56 61 .478
St. Louis 56 62 .475
Detroit 52 69 .430
Philadelphia 50 74 .402

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Cincinnati, 5; Chicago, 0.
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Cincinnati 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 1—5 11 0
Chicago 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 8 4
Batteries—Mitchell and Wingo; Walker and O'Farrell.

New York, 1; Brooklyn, 0.
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Brooklyn 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 2
New York 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 7 1
Batteries—Coombs and Miller; Peritt and McCarty.

Philadelphia, 1-3; Boston, 0-0.
First Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Boston 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 7 1
Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 7 1
Batteries—Rudolph and Wagner; Oeschger and Adams.

Second Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Boston 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 7 1
Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 7 1
Batteries—Rudolph and Wagner; Oeschger and Adams.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Boston, 12-4; Philadelphia, 0-1.
First Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 9 8
Boston 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 11 1
Batteries—Johnson and McAvoy; Mays and Schang.

Second Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 4 1
Boston 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—4 5 2
Batteries—Rudolph and Perkins; Mays and Schang.

Cleveland, 3-4; Detroit, 1-2.
First Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Cleveland 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 7 1
Detroit 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 4 3
Batteries—Cveteskie and O'Neill; Cunningham and Spencer.

Second Game—
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Cleveland 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 4 1
Detroit 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 4 3
Batteries—Bagby and O'Neill; C. Jones and Yelle.

Washington, 6; New York, 1.
Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
New York 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 5 2
Washington 3 0 2 1 0 0 0 0—6 12 1
Batteries—Fineran and Hannah; Johnson and Alsinah.

HEALTH AND PLEASURE RESORT

UNDER THE POPULAR MANAGEMENT

Part of a picturesque 4,000-acre estate nestled in the famous blue ridges of the Cumberland mountains, 1,480 feet above sea level. Its attraction, range from the refinements of a modern metropolitan hotel with its delightful table, ballroom and music to the ruggedness of unexplored mountain recesses. Guests flock here from all over the country in search of rest, recreation, pleasure and health.

GOLF, TENNIS, HORSEBACK RIDING, BILLIARDS, DANCING

WONDERFUL TATE SPRING WATER

The remarkable curative qualities of Tate Spring water are known everywhere. For rheumatism, gout, nervousness, dyspepsia, jaundice and stomach affections, it is unequalled. It is rich in iron and magnesium and a tissue builder as well as a natural eliminant.

Write for illustrated descriptive booklet

THOMAS TOMLINSON ESTATE, Proprietors

ALCAZAR

"Where Quality Meets"

D. W. GRIFFITH